ESSETS FLUID
AGAINST THE PLAGUE.

What Pure Carbolic Acid will do in three hours, Essets Fluid will do in nine minutes.

The microbe or bacillus of bubonic plague grows readily in artificial media, and is destroyed by Essets Fluid.

(WATKINS, CHOW-SUI).

These are important results proving the exceptional power of Essets Fluid, in fact, it is far superior to pure carbolic acid of the same strength.

THE ANGLO-JAPANESE
AGREEMENT.

LONDON, February 13th.

The American Government welcomes the treaty between Great Britain and Japan, and remains neutral; its neutrality however is benevolent and sympathetic. The American newspapers are of opinion that the United States stands to gain much by the treaty, and should give it its heartiest approval.

The German press believes that the treaty will tend to preserve peace, but that it is a distinct check to Russia.

of the agreement between Great Britain and Japan was communicated to America before publication. He also states that Manchuria is no more excluded from the scope of the agreement than any other province of China.
The Anglo-German agreement remains in force.

BLAZE AT TAI-KOK-TSUI.—Shortly after
half past eight this morning dense clouds of smoke were to be observed rising at the foot of hills across the harbour in the direction of Tai-kok-tsui. Soon it was apparent that a big fire was in progress, and when the exact site of the outbreak was located those on this side felt that with the stiff breeze blowing, the petroleum tanks at Tai-kok-tsui must be destroyed. The Fire Brigade quickly went across the harbour in charge of Sergt. Gourlay, who was joined by Acting Chief Inspector George Kemp, and when they had been working at the fire for some hours they were fortunate enough to confine it within a limited space.
About 30 Chinese buildings were destroyed and at the time of going to press, though the flames had been mastered, the fire was still burning and the firemen were at work pouring water on to the debris.

DANCE ON THE ALBION.—A very enjoyable dance was given last evening by Rear Admiral Grenfell and the officers of H.M.S.
Albion. The strong breeze which had sprung up during the afternoon rendered the passage
to and from the big battleship somewhat
"bumpy," but the hoods of the Albion's steamboats protected their occupants from any chance shower of spray, and the scramble from steambot to gangway was rather amusing than otherwise. The quarterdeck had been screened in for the occasion and very tastefully decorated with flags, amongst which the St. George's cross of the white ensign and the Rising Sun
of our new Allies occupied prominent positions, whilst palms and pot plants were ranged around ventilators, skylights and other deck fittings. The deck had been capably prepared for dancing and, as the iron plates covering the deck of most battleships beneath the muzzles of the after pair of guns have been dispensed with on the Albion, offered plenty of room for dancing. Refreshments, both liquid and solid, were dispensed in the Admiral's quarters and in the wardroom, the latter being the spot so dear to the average male heart,
where a quiet smoke could be indulged in.
Dancing was kept up until about one o'clock
this morning and the dance was voted a great success.

HALF YEARLY MEETING.

The ordinary half yearly meeting of the shareholders in the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation was held at noon to-day at the City Hall. There were present Mr. R.
Shewan (in the Chair), the Hon. J. J. Bull-
ing (deputy Chairman), Sir Thomas Jackson (Chief Manager), Messrs. E. Goetz, a Haupt,

son, H. Schubart, N. A. Siebs, H. W. Shale,

M. Menzies, C. Palmer, Houston, Smythe,

Ho Fook, Lai Wai Cheung, and others.

The Chairman said:—Gentlemen, We are glad of another opportunity of meeting you here
to give an account of our stewardship to the 31st December last. The accounts admit of the usual Dividend of £1.10/- per share and a Bonus of 10/- with 5/- to the Silver Reserve Fund, 2/- each written off property and $1,438,248.07 carried forward to next half year,
a division of profits which I hope will meet with your approval. Referring to the various items in the balance sheet, Notes in Circulation are $445,982 more than they were last half year. Current Accounts in Silver show an increase of $14,329,441. Current Accounts in Gold show a slight decrease of £117,823. Fixed Deposits in Silver show an increase of $4,601,062.
Fixed Deposits in Gold show a small increase of £219,877. We do not attach much importance to the fluctuations in the Deposit
A/cs, but mention them as it is conventional to do so. Bills Payable are $2,050,468 more and finally on the Credit side of the account, Profits are $3,879,992.77 against $3,479,515.99
on the 30th of June last. Turning to the other side of the account, Cash is $4,454,370 less than stated in the last report, while Coin-edged with the Hongkong Government against our extra note circulation and Bullion
in hand and transit are $3,696,015 more.
Indian Government Rupee Paper almost unchanged, say $2,009,196 on 31st December against $2,043,783 on the 30th June. Consols, Colonial and other Securities show an increase of $2,352,603, mainly owing to an extra amount of War Loan Bonus and new Consols temporarily held by us. The Sterling Reserve Fund Investments are practically unchanged. Bills Discounted, Loans and Credit are

Gentlemen: Times change and the men
with them and I cannot sit down without reverting to the next change that is impending for the Bank. I refer of course to the approaching retirement of your Chief Manager, Sir Thomas Jackson the man who has done more for this Bank than any Manager it ever had,
who after retiring home came out again when times were bad out here and who bit by bit has raised it to the present proud position it now occupies in the Banking World. If genius be as some one has said "an immense capacity for taking pains," Sir Thomas Jackson is surely entitled to the name, for no one has taken greater pains or more assiduously striven to promote the prosperity and wellbeing of this Bank.
Nothing however small, that could affect the Bank for good or ill ever escaped his notice and since he became Chief Manager in 1876, nearly 26 years ago, he has risen early and sat late, in its and its shareholders interests. He has never yielded, as weaker men would have done, to the temptation to make things look as rosy as possible and present the most glowing accounts he could. He has always erred, if he has erred at all, on the safe side and if we
to-day look with confidence and pride on the splendid Reserves we hold against any future evil days we owe it to the strong will and determination of Sir Thomas Jackson never to let the interests of the Bank be sacrificed to the mere desire of making a fine show before the world. As it was put and carried in the Parliament of Great Britain in regard to Robert Cl

every respect to undertake the responsibilities of such a post under the conditions of the climate and of life generally that prevail in this place. All such claims as those of seniority, age, &c., were made subordinate entirely to the one object we had in view of obtaining the best and most suitable man for the position. Your Directors are pleased to know that their choice has been so heartily endorsed by yourselves and the public generally. If I personally have any advice to present to give the new Chief Manager it is to rigidly follow the policy pursued by Sir Thomas Jackson of building up the Reserves of the Bank and to set his face like flint against the clamour of speculators for bigger and still bigger dividends, a compliance with which has weakened many a prosperous concern.

Before moving the adoption of the report and accounts I shall be pleased to answer any questions you may wish to put. As I don't think there are any questions, I beg to move that the report and accounts as presented be adopted and passed. Will somebody kindly second that?

Mr. Mesthurs said—I feel sure that the report and accounts showing such very satisfactory results will meet with great approval from all the shareholders. The fact that the Directors are able to recommend a dividend and bonus of £2 per share in the face of a fall in exchange of 11 per cent during the past twelve months, besides transferring a very substantial sum to reserve, and writing down bank premises account shows and speaks volumes for the management (applause). The bonus of 15 per cent to the staff will, I feel sure, commend itself to every shareholder. It is indeed satisfactory to know that the Bank is to-day in a stronger financial position than it ever has been, and to be assured that the future gives every indication of continued prosperity. The Anglo-Japanese agreement just issued will undoubtedly tend to the preservation of peace and confidence in the Far East (applause) and will lead to increased enterprise and trade, and with others the Hongkong Banking Corporation should greatly benefit (applause). The Chairman has referred to the approaching retirement of Sir Thomas Jackson, who has with such signal success for over a quarter of a century directed its destinies, and I am sure the Shareholders will be in accord with any recognition that the Director's may make to mark their and the Shareholders' appreciation of his services (applause). In wishing Sir Thomas Jackson many years of happiness at home I feel, as I think you all do, that we hope the Directors may still retain the advantage of his advice and the benefit of his great experience (applause). With these few remarks I beg to second the adoption of the report and accounts. The motion was put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

DIRECTORS.

On the proposition of Mr. J. S. Van Buren, seconded by Mr. R. K. Leigh, Messrs. R. L. Richardson and H. W. Slade were unanimously re-elected directors.

AUDITORS.

Mr. Palmer proposed and Mr. Hancock seconded that Messrs. F. Henderson and C. S. Sharp be re-elected auditors. The motion was carried.

A vote of thanks was proposed to the directors for the able manner in which they had carried on their arduous duties recently for the welfare of the Bank.

In reply the Chairman said—I am much obliged to you, on behalf of my colleagues and myself for the vote of thanks you have passed. It is Addison, I believe, who says, "Tis not in mortals to command success," but when I look at Sir Thomas Jackson I am not so sure of that statement, but we directors will do our best to prove it.

The meeting then closed.

COGILL & SUTTON'S ENTERTAINMENT.

The above comedy and vaudeville show has been running in Manila for the past five weeks to crowded houses and Capt. Jack Sutton has arrived here to make arrangements for a run at the City Hall. The Company consists of fourteen persons, including six ladies, among whom are Miss Rosie Aguinaldo, the world's greatest contortionist, and Miss Mai Arile, a comedienne who is justly celebrated in the United States. The Company will arrive here about the 24th or 25th instant and will open at the Theatre Royal shortly after. Our Manila contemporaries speak very highly of the entertainment and there can be little doubt but that equal success will attend the Hongkong season. Further particulars as to booking, etc., will be given later.

PROCLAMATION BY THE KING.

The following Proclamation is published in an extraordinary number of the Government Gazette:

BY THE KING
A PROCLAMATION.
EDWARD R. L.

Whereas an Act was passed in the last Session of Parliament, intitled "An Act to enable His Most Gracious Majesty to make an Addition to the Royal Style and Titles in recognition of His Majesty's Dominions beyond the Seas," which Act enacts that it shall be lawful for Us, with a view to such recognition as aforesaid of Our Dominions beyond the Seas, by Our Royal Proclamation, under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom issued within six months after the passing of the said Act, to make such addition to the Style and Titles at present appertaining to the Imperial Crown of the United Kingdom and its Dependencies as to Us may seem fit: And whereas Our present Style and Titles are in the Latin tongue, "Edwards VII. Dei Gratia Britanniarum Rex, Fidei Defensor, India Imperator," and in the English tongue, Edward VII., by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India? We have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, to appoint and declare, and We do hereby, by and with the said advice, appoint and declare, that henceforth, so far as conveniently may be, on all occasions and in all instruments wherein Our Style and Titles are used, the following addition shall be made to the Style and Titles at present appertaining to the Imperial Crown of the United Kingdom and its Dependencies; that is to say, in the Latin tongue, after the word "Britanniarum," these words words "et terrarum transmarinarum que in ditione sunt Britannicæ" and in the English tongue, after the words "of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland," these words, "and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas."

And Our will and pleasure further is, that all gold, silver, and bronze moneys, now current and lawful money of the United Kingdom, and all gold, silver, and bronze moneys which shall, on or after this day, be coined by Our authority with the like impressions, shall, notwithstanding such addition to Our Style and Titles, be deemed and taken to be current and lawful moneys of the said United Kingdom; and further, that all moneys coined for and issued in any of the Dependencies of the said United Kingdom, and declared by Our Proclamation to be current and lawful money of such Dependencies, respectively bearing Our Style or Titles, or any part or parts thereof, and all moneys which shall hereafter be coined and issued according to such Proclamation, shall, notwithstanding such addition, continue to be lawful and current money of such Dependencies respectively, until Our pleasure shall be further declared thereupon.

Given at Our Court at St. James's this fourth day of November, One thousand nine hundred and one, in the first year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

HONGKONG SHARE MARKET.

Messrs. Benjamin, Kelly and Potts, in their weekly share report state:—

HONGKONG, Friday, February 14th. Business remains dull, and consequently we have very little to report. A sharp rise in the price of Hongkong Fires is the only feature which marks the week's record.

The China Borneo Company, Limited, has advertised its Third Ordinary Yearly Meeting for the 1st March. The transfer books will be closed from the 15th instant to the 1st proximo, both days inclusive.

The China Fire Insurance Company, Limited, has given notice of its Thirty-third Ordinary Meeting to be held on the 6th March. The transfer books will be closed from the 20th instant to the 6th proximo, both days inclusive.

Banks.—Hongkong and Shanghai Banks ruled quiet in the early part of the week, but latterly a small demand sprang up and transactions at 60½ have since taken place, the market closing with further enquiries at the figure. The London quotation is £63.10½. Nationals have been fixed, and more can be placed at 27½.

Marine Insurances.—Unions are enquired for at 34½. China Traders have changed hands at 36½, and a small parcel of North Chinas has been bought at 11s. 10p. Other stocks are without business.

Fire Insurances.—Hongkong Fires have jumped to 397½, at which rate shares are in demand. A dividend of 35 per share will be declared at the forthcoming meeting. China Fires have also hardened and can be placed at 30, but there are no shares to be had except at considerable advance.

Shipping.—Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboats have been negotiated at 36½, and are still wanted. Indo-Chinas have further improved, but close weak at 14½. Douglas Steamships can be procured at 54½. China and Manilas have been dealt in at 50. Star Ferries, old issue, are asked for at 23 after sales at the rate; the new shares remain dull at quotation.

galore would be showered upon him. But alas for vain hopes! The Governors, Secretaries, underlings and hirelings received him with urbane hospitality, and perhaps some smiles may have recalled the day when Capt. Bayley threatened to string him up at the yard arm at Tientsin Railway Station for endeavouring to obstruct the relief of Peking, but material satisfaction he got none. The Governors were seized with temporary imbecility and declared that their powers did not go the length of promising to return anything, and at last Tong withdrew, and returned to Peking a sadder, if not a wiser man.

THEIR IDLE TEARS!
I have just heard from Peking that the Empress Dowager went copiously over the ladies at the audience, referring in floods of emotion to the terrible events of 1900. She then gave them each two Dutch gold coins of the 14th century, also gold bracelets studded with pearls, diamonds, rubies, emeralds, etc., and has since sent them rolls of rich silks.

MORE ASSURANCES.
Jung Lu has improved the shining hour by running round to all the Ministers and calling Heaven to witness that he had done his best to prevent the disasters of 1900—and the whole of them think "Bosh!"

ORIENTALS IN LONDON.

Near Limehouse-causeway the joss stick is regularly burned before the ancestral tablets. In Popular the faithful Parsee day by day turns his face to the sun at the hour of worship. In the poorer quarters of Stepney men of many castes struggle to observe the ordinances of their faith or the customs of their people amid strange surroundings. The very vices of the East are here allowed to continue unchecked, so unobtrusively are the men affected by them.

Here we can see fan-tan played by clean-shaven, almond-eyed, plaited-haired Chinese with the assiduity of a religious cult. Here we can enter the dingy opium den, its walls decorated with calligraphic signs, and its hard wooden couches occupied by strangers enticing themselves into artificial slumber.

Near by you can buy bird's nest soup, or genuine curry, mangoes, or blocks of Siberian tea. A Chinese laundryman will wash one's clothes. A deft nimble-fingered Hindu will shave you. You can find a black ayah to care for your children or a faithful and patient man from Canton to be your body-servant.

PASSING STRANGERS.
The Orientals in London are to be numbered by the many hundreds. Most of them are mere passing strangers—here to-day, gone to-morrow. A few settle in our midst, marry, learn our tongue, and seek to be of us. We have the sailor and the poor traveller at the docks, the swarthy law student in the lodging-house of Bloomsbury or South Kensington, the ambitious merchant around Fenchurch-street, Marquis Ito, who next to the Mikado Mutsuhito was the real maker of modern Japan, lived around these docks for some months when a lad, and there got his first impression of Western civilisation. Other coming rulers of the East are perhaps doing the same to-day.

Limehouse is the centre of Oriental London. There we can see men of all the dusky strains of the world; men from Aden and from the isles of the Southern Seas; lascars and swarthy sons of Africa, Cingalese and men of Goa, Hindus of every caste, and the proud and quick-tempered Malay. They lack, however, the turbans, the fanciful dresses and picturesque costumes in which they are so often depicted. These they leave behind, and it is but rarely that one sees turban or fez in London streets. The men are mostly sailors, and they dress as such, in the serge suits, jaunty caps, and twisted neckties of their class.

WHAT ARE THEY DOING IN LONDON?
Most of them are sailors, who have come here on ocean ships, serving at native wages, and waiting here till they are engaged again. They will ship for any port in any land provided it be not their own—unless they wish to return home for special reasons. Shipowners like them, and they find it easy to obtain berths while Europeans are standing idle at the docks, for they are more tractable, more amenable to argument, and more obedient. The Hindu—though not the Chinaman—will allow a bullying captain or hectoring mate to abuse him without retaliation. The Chinaman, however, is quite as able to resent ill-treatment as his English brother.

Here, probably for the first time, these Easterners find themselves treated by whites on a basis of equality. We have too few men of colour here to fear the domination, hence the absence of race repulsion. Universal out of Europe, it is in London almost non-existent. Even the Hindu finds himself able to mix among the poor white population round the docks on terms of comradeship. For him this is often demoralising. Open the door of many a public-house round Limehouse and you will find black men and brown men there in their crowds mixed up with the lowest hangers on of the district.

The Orientals, fresh from their work on shipboard, usually have money, all they want to do is to spend, that money. The easiest and most pleasant way to accomplish this is found at the bar.

SHARKS AND SPONGERS.
A single day may lighten them of the greater portion of the whole of the wages of their voyage. Notwithstanding all that has been done here are still sharks and spongers who make their way by robbing the strangers. First they make them helpless with drink, then they clean them out of every penny in their possession, and the poor stranger knows that there is little use in his going to the police for a remedy. But it would be a mistake to picture the Easterners solely as ill-used or unfortunate victims here. Many of them come to us with definite plans, and high ambitions. Every Bloomsbury landlady knows the poor Baboo who arrives here with miserably inadequate funds, to train for a learned profession. Most of them have to go back unsuccessful. Not long ago a Hindu of some considerable education came to this country. He had £100, and on this he hoped to live until he was called to the English Bar. The impossibility of this was pointed out to him, and soon afterwards he returned to the East. A curious instance was that of another man of education, a Brahmin, who seems to have come to England as a religious teacher. "My preceptor," he wrote, "possesses in him an ocean of theological knowledge, with a benevolent idea of benefiting those who are real seekers after reality. I am one of his disciples; we are not men of wealth."

LONDON, NOT FOR THE ORIENTAL.
A certain number of the Easterners find permanent employment in England as servants. A few open little shops, for carry on business with hotels and restaurants in the sale of curries and powder. One Persian is well known in London as a courier. He speaks eight or ten different languages, and is in constant employment. The Chinese beggar who regularly for many years went round Fleet-street was once a familiar character. As a general rule the Oriental who remains in London does not do well.

The men do not give much trouble to the law. They are for the most part quiet, peaceful, and well-behaved, accustomed to discipline and prepared to submit to it. Even when they are in drink they are more like unruly children than adult men. Occasionally, however, even their sluggish blood is stirred. There is a serious quarrel, a knife or dagger is drawn, and then it is time for Europeans to stand on one side, for your placid Easterner carries his knife in his belt.

The Chinese colony is quite a separate section of Oriental life in London. There are several shops in Limehouse-causeway owned by Chinese, with Chinese hieroglyphics over their doors and run in regular Chinese fashion. The very reckoning of change is done by enumerators on the counter, after the old Roman fashion. With some of these shops gambling dens and opium rooms are regularly maintained.

THEIR WESTERN GAMBLING HOUSE.
The writer remembers once trying with a friend who knew the place to penetrate one of these Chinese houses. A sturdy man from Canton sought to bar the way, but we pushed by and got upstairs. There a strange sight met the eye. In a corner ancestral tablets were erected, lights were burning before them, and offerings of apples and food (including a Hamley and Pinner cake) were laid out for the dead in the other world. Round the table a number of men from the ships were assembled. Ever More Carlo could not show the passion for speculation more eagerly marked on human countenances than it was there. Each face was lit up by anxious greed as the dice rattled, and as the Chinese cash—the copper coins with the holes in the centre—mingled with English silver in the heaps on the table.

The opium dens are not picturesque. The one interest in them is the interest of curiosity. None but Chinese go to them, save on very rare occasions. The owners are unwilling to let strangers penetrate into these inner rooms, and it is only by considerable argument and persuasion that it has ever been possible to get in. And when one does get inside the half-sleeping pig-tailed men and the sickly atmosphere are repulsive. —London Daily Mail.

BANK NOTES AND WRECKS.
The Government at Washington destroyed about 250,000 worth of paper money every day, without stuff that is worthless as currency. They turn it into pulp and afterwards it is made into car wheels. In that form it may circulate several years more. For every note thus destroyed a new one of the same denomination is manufactured. Therefore don't worry. There will always be bank notes enough for the only trouble is to get them safely and snugly lodged in our pockets. And that is as hard a trick in America as it is in England.

Gold and silver coins also wear out and go to the melting pot to be recast. Whenever there is a friction there is a destruction more or less rapid. It is this tendency of things to go to pieces that led Mr. Kitchin to speak of himself as a physical wreck. Ships that get lost on rocks and are there, hammered into bits by the waves, obviously suggested the comparison.

In her own account, written on the 10th August, 1900, she gives the main facts. There is nothing new in them, which is all the worse; for it is like her own common reasons for trying to prevent them, or to cure them, are all the more imperative and pressing. "Suppose, out of every four vessels navigating English waters, one at least got wrecked between the Scillys and the Isle of Wight."

Why, then, it would almost be up to the Admiralty. And yet the community is full of just such "physical wrecks" as Mrs. Shirr says she was. Surely there must be both weak vessels and bad steering in this part of the sea.

In plain talk her story runs this way:—For fully twenty years I was subject to bronchitis and indigestion. I was never free from these ailments; never well. Even in the best of the summer weather my breathing was bad, and as soon as over the cold and wet of winter set in I was laid up altogether.

"In December, 1897, the influenza gripped tight hold of me and for some days my condition was critical. At last after a struggle I recovered from the influenza, but it left me weak and exhausted, with the bronchitis worse than before.

"Nearly everything I ate made me sick or else caused a sinking, gnawing pain in the chest, as if something wanted to come up but could not."

(There are certain complaints which seem to do much damage with their tale than with their jaws—as valves do when they fight against the sea. One of the worst of these is influenza; its action on the stomach and on the nerves that control digestion leaves them like a house without doors or windows—open to every thief and tramp who comes.)

NOTICE.

THE SECOND VOLUME of BOX'S EXCHANGE TABLES with Rates in 1/16ths from 1/10 to 1/16 down to 1/16d, is now in the bookbinders' hands and will be published next week. These Tables, which run in columns of 100, from 1999 down to 1, and from 1911 down to 1d or from $999 down to 1 cent, enable the user to arrive at the value in Dollars of any sum in Sterling under £1,000 by simply adding the equivalent of the Shillings and Pence to that of the Pounds; or to get the value in Sterling of any Sum of Dollars and Cents under $1,000 by adding the equivalent of the Cents to that of the Dollars. By these simple means of computation a very considerable saving of time and trouble, besides securing a ready means of proving accuracy is secured, as is illustrated in the following examples: To reduce £299, 17 1/2 in Dollars at Exchange 1/10 1/16 =

$299. 0. 0 = $9,561. 926
$9,571. 671

whereas with the other exchange books the process would be as follows:—

$299. 0. 0 = $2,706. 550
70. 0. 0 = 761. 473
9. 0. 0 = 97. 924
17. 0. 0 = 9. 247
11. 0. 0 = 6. 437

$9,571. 671

or to convert the dollars into sterling at the same rate of exchange:—

$9,500.00 = £27. 6. 10. 8
$71.00 = 52. 9. 9. 11
671 = 1. 2. 13

$79. 17. 11. 00

but by other books it would be:—

$9,500.00 = £27. 6. 10. 8
500.00 = 45. 19. 3. 4
70.00 = 6. 8. 2. 6
1.000 = 1. 10. 1. 0
1.00 = 1. 1. 3
70 = 1. 9
1 = 1

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE,

HONGKONG.

OWING to the insufficiency of accommodation in the present building and the increasing demand for admission, it has been found necessary to extend the wings of the main building and to enlarge the Chinese department by an additional storey with two wings. The estimated cost will amount to over $15,000. To cover these expenses we appeal to the liberality of all friends of Education.

The establishment has been in existence for the last 25 years and is open to all classes. Much of the clerical work of the city is carried on by its past pupils. As this is the first time we have applied for assistance we expect a generous response. The names of our most liberal benefactors will be inscribed upon marble tablets as a lasting testimony of their generosity.
